

Joey Rossa
JMR Landscaping

Joey Rossa has had an interest in landscaping for as long as he can remember. He founded JMR Landscaping at the age of 14 and has grown the business from a small neighborhood lawn care service to a full-service boutique landscaping company.

When he was young, Joey spent much time shadowing mentors and soaking up their knowledge in various aspects of the industry. Very much a “people person”, Joey has always known to surround himself with talented and experienced professionals. Now the dedicated owner of a business with over 90 employees, Joey continues to understand the importance of valued colleagues and putting the customers’ needs first.

Landscape design continues to be Joey’s passion and has helped JMR Landscaping to become one of the premier landscape construction businesses on the Chicago north shore.