

Nick Surges
Night Light Inc.

In 2001, Nick started off digging trenches at Night Light. He put himself through college while working his way up to leadership in service. For a season, he spent time developing skills as the continuing improvement manager at a prominent personalization company. He returned in 2014 uniquely equipped to serve as our Production Manager, until his fitting promotion to General Manager in 2016. Nick has been the crux of all of Night Light's departments, a motivational leader, and a designer. He has now purchased the company with Billy Oliver, and has become Vice President!
